

New England Tour

New England sub-branch members at the Autumn 09 tour's visit to the New England historic gardens photographic exhibition, Saumarez. Key people in the exhibition's image selection, curation, research and notes are Graham Wilson AO (second from left); and Bill Oates, sub-branch Chair and curator (second from right).

Tour members enjoying a leisurely stroll up one of Gostwyck, Uralla's three marvellous avenues of elm trees.

Branch chair Stuart Read on tour and particularly enjoying the wonders of Stonehenge Station, Glen Innes' huge and richly planted garden.

Enjoying a fossick inside The Old Mole's shed at Richard Bird & Lynne Walker's home, Heatherbrae, Black Mountain.

Invergowrie's productive vegetable garden on the autumn tour, complete with rabbit-proof wire mesh guards, and raised, mulched paths: inspiring!

Artificial Poinsettias in the chapel at Ollera, Guyra – interior garden-history!