Fuelling the Fire

The Pre-Conference Symposium will be held in an evocative state-heritage landscape to set the scene for the main Conference, Gardens in Times of Peace and Conflict. Joadja Creek valley, 30kms west of Mittagong, the location of an abandoned nineteenth-century kerosene and shale oil mining town, is recognised for its heritage significance:

'The isolation and beauty of Joadja valley, the comprehensiveness of its physical testimony to a great Australian industry, a vigorous Scottish community and a vanished technology make Joadja an extremely important element in the heritage not just of Wingecarribee Shire but of Australia and the world.' - State Heritage Register Statement of Significance.

After a Welcome to Country by Gundungurra Elder, Trish Levett, a barbeque lunch will be provided on arrival in the valley. Owner Valero Jiminez and historian, Leonie Knapman, will take you on a tour of the valley including the ruins, the retorts, 'Carrington Row' and former orchards.

Discussion will continue in the distillery café, led by Professor Emeritus Helen Armstrong AM. The particular focus will be on time and conflicting narratives of 'gardening' in the broader landscape.

Dr Charles Massey OAM, author of Call of the Reed Warbler, will bring his deep knowledge of regenerative attitudes to land.

Meeting place: Please meet in the foyer of Mittagong RSL at 10.45am sharp.

It is one of the most important nineteenth century industrial and archaeological mining relics in Australia, and certainly the most spectacular of the early shale mining sites in New South Wales. It is extremely rare in its level of preservation which maintains the relationships between industrial sites and habitation sites with very little twentieth century intrusion. Joadja demonstrates close links with Scotland through technology, managers, miners and refinery workers. (Simpson 1978) (Jack 1995)
